AFTER THE BLAST, EVERYTHING WAS AFFECTED, AND
NOTHING'S BEEN THE SAME SINCE. NIGHTMARES
BECAME A REALITY, BLOODLINES DEMOLISHED, AND IMAGINATIONS OBSOLETE.

STORYLINE

GENESIS

After the nuclear blast at the Renchood Biohazard facility, nothing has ever been the same since. INFKTED factions have emerged, each with its own motives. The likes of Heroes, Mutants, Undead, and Wanderers walk the lands of this twisted new world in search of answers, power, and control. Something in this facility had enough power to turn even the darkest of nightmares into walking realities.

The answer is out there, but so are the INFKTED.

Godspeed.

INFKTED

THE WANDERERS

As the residents of this new world navigate the unknown lands, a new bloodline of wanderers has formed across the infected ecosystem. The nuclear fallout has caused freak-like mutations, twisted genetics, and abnormal infusions of abilities that have once again restored hope.

INFKTED

THE HEROES

Not much good was left after the INFKTED came. The trees withered, wildlife corrupted, and food sources diminished. With hope on the brink of extinction, few Heroes remain, and they'll do anything to restore the world back to its previous state.

INFKTED

THE UNDEAD

In this new world, the bones of the dead have been viciously resurrected by the artificial biohazard blast. Ex-military, former soldiers, and the most wretched evildoers have emerged with mutations and abilities that will have residents wishing they died from the infection.

INFKTED

THE MUTANTS

After the incident at the facility, destruction and chaos become the norm for citizens of this new twisted world. Gangs of mutants emerged with powers that had never been seen before. Their motive has yet to be discovered, but whatever it is, it can't be good.
